A NEW WAY OF THINKING ABOUT WOOD.

What is Tricoya®?

Tricoya® is a high-performance wood fiber panel material designed for exceptional durability, stability, and long-term performance in exterior applications. It offers the beauty and versatility of wood, while helping solve many of the common problems that traditional wood products face over time.

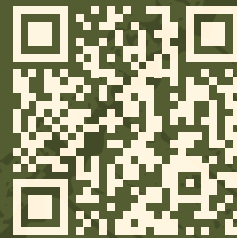

Why Homeowners Choose It

Tricoya® helps create garage doors that are made to last, with excellent stability, strong paint performance, and resistance to the moisture-related issues that often affect conventional wood materials.

That means more confidence, longer-lasting beauty, and a door designed to perform in demanding environments.

Key Benefits

- Exceptional durability for exterior applications
- Outstanding dimensional stability
- Ideal for painted finishes
- Helps resist moisture-related movement and deterioration
- Designed for lasting performance and beauty

Standard Construction Specifications

- All the advantages of our Accoya® wood doors but lighter in weight - Tricoya® is a new breed of MDF that perfectly blends as the outer skin and backer panel to a rugged but lighter steel frame.
- Same eco-friendly modified wood that prevents cells from absorbing water, which is why it resists rot, warping, swelling, shrinking, splintering, and insect damage.
- Simulated, divided lites with both exterior and interior grilles have profiled edge milling for a rich, architectural look. True divided lites are also available.
- Standard glazing is double-strength clear glass.
- Any color or new faux stain consisting of heat reflective paint and glaze.
- Same design flexibility featuring our proprietary lamination process and hidden joinery (no exterior fastener filler marks).
- Bottom astragal is an EPDM rubber mounted in an aluminum retainer.

OUR WARRANTIES

50 Year Warranty

50 YEARS - ABOVE GROUND USE

Tricoya® combines design flexibility with exceptional exterior performance, making it a trusted material for projects where lasting beauty and long-term reliability matter. Engineered for demanding conditions, it offers impressive durability, outstanding stability, and dependable resistance to rot and fungal decay.

Unlike traditional panel materials that can be more vulnerable to moisture-related movement and deterioration over time, Tricoya® is designed to perform with greater consistency in exterior environments. Its advanced composition helps support cleaner finishes, dependable structural integrity, and long-lasting visual appeal.

For homeowners, that means greater confidence in a material that is built to endure. For designers and builders, it means more freedom to create distinctive doors without compromising on performance.

Its proven reliability is what allows Tricoya® to be backed by a 50 year warranty for above ground use, a level of assurance that reflects both the quality of the material and the confidence behind it.

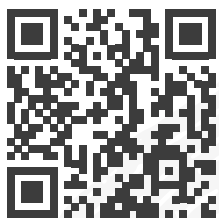

About Artisan

Since 1995, Artisan Custom Doorworks has been dedicated to crafting high-quality, custom garage doors. Based in Morgantown, Pennsylvania, we combine time-tested construction methods with innovation to create durable and visually appealing doors.

Artisan offers a variety of handcrafted designs, from classic wood doors to modern styles in composite and vinyl materials. Every door is customizable to match the character of a home while requiring minimal maintenance.
